The Tenets of Infinite Gumption and NeverBrokenYou

There is light in you - always. You are only broken if you buy into it/believe it. You always belong somewhere - even if you cannot see it. You are never alone (even when you think you are). There is always hope. We are all in this together. Power as one, together unstoppable. Inner strength is there...it just needs tapping into. It is okay to fall apart - you are not broken, let go. Your wounds will heal. Your flaws are not you - just a part, and an important part. Your mistakes do not make you. We can choose what rules our minds.
